CaSonya Thomas, Director

Policy
It is the policy of the Department of Behavioral Health (DBH) to support staff with the effective and productive use of telecommunication devices or services as needed to deliver DBH services and ensure they are used appropriately.

Purpose
To provide DBH staff with information regarding the use of issued telecommunication devices and provide internal controls to ensure the policy is enforced.

Definitions

Facilities and Project Management (FPM) is a unit within DBH responsible for providing supportive service to DBH staff through facility management, project management, warehouse distribution and storage management. These responsibilities include overseeing the programs for the following list of devices, which are also defined:

- Cell Phone (also referred to as a cellular phone or mobile telephone) refers to a wireless electronic device used to make and receive telephone calls over a network of base stations known as cell towers.
- Landline or fixed phone line refers to a telephone which uses a fiber optic line to transmit calls. It is commonly used within DBH as a desk or reception phone.
- Pagers are pocket-sized electronic devices whose signal notifies the user of an important message or a telephone number to be called.
- Smart phone is a type of cell phones which have advanced capabilities, such as software to deliver emails and provide internet access.

Information Technology is a unit within DBH responsible for providing supportive service to DBH staff through information systems which include computer hardware and software procurement and management. These responsibilities include overseeing the programs for the following list of devices, which are also defined:

- Laptops are computers designed for mobile use. They are sometimes referred to as notebooks.
- PC Wireless Cards connect to laptop or notebook computers and provide a wireless capability to connect the device to the internet. This service is coordinated by the DBH Information Technology unit.
- Tablets are mobile computers which are larger than mobile phones and smaller than most laptop computers. They have flat screens which are operated by touching the screen rather than using a physical keyboard.
