WDB posts resource guide for employers, workers impacted by COVID-19

The San Bernardino County Workforce Development Board (WDB) has established an online resource guide for businesses and individuals impacted by the COVID-19 crisis.

The guide, available here, provides information and links on a variety of topics, including:

- The new federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act (CARES) and SBA loans for small businesses
- Tax and payroll assistance available through the California Employment Development Department
- Unemployment insurance claims
- Safety in the workplace
- Contributions for medical supplies
- Services available through WDB's three America's Job Centers of California
- WDB's Rapid Response and Layoff Aversion programs for businesses experiencing difficulty
- Upcoming webinars for businesses on topics related to the pandemic

WDB is working closely with its business and economic development partners to gauge specific needs within the county, and will update its online-resource information as it becomes available.

About the San Bernardino County Workforce Development Board

The San Bernardino County Workforce Development Board (WDB) is comprised of private business representatives and public partners appointed by the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors. The WDB strives to strengthen the skills of the County's workforce through partnerships with business, education and community-based organizations. The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors is committed to providing county resources, which generate jobs and investment in line with the Countywide Vision.

The Workforce Development Board, through the San Bernardino County Economic Development Agency and Workforce Development Department, offers a variety of programs designed to help youth and adults identify career pathways and get the appropriate training and skills. Programs funded through the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) provide eligible youth, ages 16 to 24, access to a variety of career and educational services designed to help enhance job skills, develop leadership qualities, explore career options, participate in adult and peer mentoring opportunities, and take advantage of work experiences. In addition, the WDB operates San Bernardino County's three America's Job Centers of California (AJCC). The AJCCs provide individuals with job training, placement and the tools to strengthen their skills to achieve a higher quality of life. The AJCCs also support and provide services to the County's businesses, including employee recruitment and business retention programs.
